READING

Read the text and answer the questions.

Hello, I'm Kaali. I'm 18 and I live in France. This is my blog! I love travelling. So, this blog is about me and the places I go to. It's about all the things I see and do, around the world.

Not everyone enjoys travelling, but I do. The first place I visited, when I was only 2 years old, was London. My parents wanted to visit my grandparents. We went there every year for a long time, so I saw a lot of the UK. It was good because I learnt a lot of English.

I've been to many countries. My father used to be a journalist and went to different places, although he's now working as a university teacher. So far, I've been to 12 European countries, and two more in Africa.

If I had the chance to go anywhere, it would be Japan. My dad has been there, and he said it wasn't like any other place he had been to. However, he also said that communication was sometimes a problem. If I went there, I would need to learn some phrases, which would be hard, because it's so different to English or French.

One of the best experiences you can have while travelling is meeting the locals. That's why it's important to do more than just go sightseeing, or visiting restaurants. You understand much more from spending time with people than looking at an old building, or having a meal.

So, why am I doing this blog? Showing off about how many places I've been to shouldn't be the reason why I write about my travel experiences. It is said that travel broadens the mind, and I'd prefer to focus on how travelling improves our understanding of the world. I'm getting used to the idea that although we're all different, people around the world actually have a lot in common with each other. If I'd decided to make my blog all about photos of whatever food I'm having, or various tourist attractions, I may have got bored with it a long time ago! I'll be visiting a lot of places over the next few years, I'm sure, and hopefully, I should have built up a large number of articles. Provided you like the sound of this, please check my blog every week for something new!

Write a short answer to each question.

- 1 How old is Kaali?
- 2 What does she like doing?
- 3 When did she start travelling?
- 4 Why did she go to London?
- 5 What was her father's job?
- 6 How many countries has Kaali visited?
- 7 Who has visited Japan?
- 8 What would Kaali find difficult about Japan?
- 9 What does she think is most important when you travel?
- 10 What is the reason that Kaali is writing her blog?
- 11 What is Kaali now beginning to find normal?
- 12 Why might Kaali have stopped doing her blog?
